

Peace Movement Aotearoa presents

with filmmaker Anne Keala Kelly

Native Hawaiian filmmaker, Anne Keala Kelly, will introduce and discuss her documentary 'Noho Hewa' - a powerful portrayal of the multiple links between militarisation and the historical and ongoing processes of colonisation.

"A brilliant, incisive, and complex expose of colonialism (American and other) and its devastating effects on Kanaka Maoli, the indigenous people of Hawaii, and their land." - Author, poet, scholar and painter Albert Wendt

Friday 2 May, 6pm - 8.20pm, NZ Film Archive cnr Taranaki and Ghuznee Streets, Wellington

In association with the Film Archive, entry by donation to the Archive

For more information, please contact Peace Movement Aotearoa: tel 04 382 8129
email pma@xtra.co.nz RSVP www.facebook.com/PeaceMovementAotearoa/events